HAVE — A Hill County jury deliberated for two hours Friday before returning a guilty verdict in the deliberate homicide trial of Anthony Roy St. Dennis.

St. Dennis, 19, will be sentenced March 5 for the slaying death of Forrest Clayton Salcido, a 56-year-old homeless Navy veteran who lived most of his life in Missoula.

morning as attorneys concluded a week's worth of testimony and evidence.

Disturbing crime scene photographs and portions of an incriminating telephone confession highlighted the evidence as jurors began their deliberations.

Salcido's battered body was discovered the morning of Dec. 6, 2007, near the California Street overbridge in Missoula. A co-defendant in the case, 21-year-old Dustin Strahan, also is charged with homicide and is scheduled to stand trial in March.

In his closing remarks, Missoula County Attorney Fred Van Valkenburg urged jurors to use common sense when deciding the verdict and told them that the recorded jailhouse phone
